Director's Column: Jarrod Williams

A huge thank you to Larry and Debbie Arnold for hosting our July Poker Run Tour! We had a great time exploring the city and countryside. I'd also like to thank everyone that came out to the July meeting at our house. The weather cooperated and we had a very productive meeting. If you were not able to attend, the big item on the agenda was the cancellation of our major fundraising event, the Show 'N' Tell car show held in September. We'll see you at the August 9th Putt-Putt event and the August 26 club meeting held at the home of Larry and Debbie Arnold.

2020 July Poker Run

Summary submitted by and tour hosted by: Larry and Debbie Arnold

On Sunday, July 12th, four lonely Model A's and a modern car set out on the 5th Annual Poker Run. Our numbers this year were held back by the weather forecast threatening heavy thunderstorms throughout the day. So those who joined either had great faith or a strong commitment to poker.

We started off with a drivers' meeting led by Larry Arnold. Although we handed out directions, he reassured everyone that we will go as a group and will not leave anyone behind. I was excited because I can easily count to 5, so I knew we would not lose track of anyone this year.

The first cards were dealt, and we left for our first stop. We enjoyed a short drive to the Gilmore Metro Park. For those who ventured in, we were able to experience the rare beauty of the marsh while enjoying a fresh apple. The duckweed made the entire marshland glow a beautiful lime green. What an unexpected surprise from mother nature in such an industrial area. We dealt out the second card and moved on to our second stop. We had a little delay due to a train passing through and an unexpected photo-op.

After the short train delay, we made it to Hamilton's Veteran's Park. Hamilton did not disappoint on the artwork or the view. The eagle mural on the side of the restroom building was simply beautiful. As a side note, if you need a place to dispose of an American Flag, the park has a drop box for anyone to use 24/7.

Each member picked another card, and we headed for our third stop. As we left Veteran's Park, we did a little meandering around the historical district of Hamilton. I think we were all in a little awe of the gorgeous architecture. We then took a left onto New London Road to begin our journey into the country. If you never had the chance to drive all the way across New London Road, take the time. It's a perfect Model A cruise.

Our final and sweetest stop was at the Harrison Community Center. We all picked our fourth card and headed to Bright. As we headed up the hill, Larry and I were thankful that the rain had held off.

The final stop was at Shift Restaurant and Bar on State Line Road in Bright. We all picked our final card and finally showed our hands. Ken Lynch and his dad, Jack, won the Poker Run this year with two pairs!

We hope everyone else enjoyed the day and we've already been thinking about next year where we hope to see a larger group join us again.

Thank you,
Debbie Arnold

Distributor Roadside Seminar

By: Tom Endy

Taken from: <http://www.santaanitaas.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/08/2OC-Distributor-Roadside-Seminar.pdf>

A spare distributor:

On any long club tour sooner or later one of the Model A's will pull over to the side of the road and up will come the hood. The first component to be attacked is the distributor, and it is probably the most likely source of the problem. For this reason it makes sense to carry a spare distributor with you that has been rebuilt with the points already set, and most important, tested on the same running car. It is a lot easier to swap out the distributor than to be standing along side the road fooling around trying to determine what's wrong with it and to attempt to change out numerous parts. You do not have to reset the timing as long as you do not disturb the cam screw and you are installing it in the same car it was tested on.

Distributor failure:

The three most likely things that tend to go wrong with a distributor are:

- (1) the condenser failing
- (2) the lower plate wire breaking or shorting
- (3) the point gap closing up

The points:

The point gap should be the first thing to check and they can be easily set without changing the distributor. Points tend to close up as the rubbing block wears. This is especially true on a new set of points. The points will close up considerably during the first 100 miles, until a glaze is worn into the rubbing block. So if you just installed new points before starting out on the big tour, be prepared to have to reset them sometime soon. After that you only need to reset that at about 1,000-mile intervals. Points are set at 0.018 to 0.022, so be sure to carry a set of feeler gauges with you.

Henry's wayward wire:

The wire that connects the upper and lower distributor plates together is also prone to break and/or short out. The arrangement wasn't one of Henry's better ideas. The wire is supposed to be a very flexible 80-strand wire to be able to better withstand the constant movement imposed by the driver's use of the spark advance lever. Most distributors by now do not have the proper wire installed, and even with the proper wire, they will still eventually break due to the constant flexing. Be wary of the "modern" lower plates being offered by most suppliers. They will eventually fail (after about 1,000 miles) because of the constant sparking and erosion of the contacting parts. Bratton sells the correct 80-strand wire and is really the only best solution.

The condenser:

The condenser is usually the first thing everyone wants to replace. I have seen countless numbers of them replaced over the years, but I have only seen one that actually failed. Many years ago era condensers were susceptible to failure due to heat, and in the present day due to inherent poor quality. The condenser is located in close proximity to the exhaust manifold where it is extremely hot under normal conditions. If your engine becomes over heated due to high ambient temperatures and/or running out of water, or driving around with the spark handle all the way up you could do damage to the condenser. The poor quality of many condensers on the market is the bigger problem though. Look at the end of the condenser where the strap is attached. If it has a 1\4" round circle and is soldered on to the base of the condenser, don't use it. Temperatures can get high enough to melt the solder. Look for a condenser that has the strap stake welded on, they will have three small dots on the strap where it attaches to the base of the condenser. These are the better quality condensers. Bratton's Antique Auto stocks them too.

Roadside distributor replacement:

It is never a good idea to break the torque on any one of the 14 head bolts as it can cause the head to warp and allow water to leak into the oil pan. Unfortunately Henry came up with a fool proof anti-theft scheme that works very well even in the modern day, but involves one of the head bolts. An armored cable from the ignition switch to the distributor protects the integrity of the wire carrying power to the points. The cable has a clamp around it and is bolted to the #8 head bolt making it difficult to remove the distributor to insert a hot wire. It is not a good idea to break the torque on the #8 head bolt either out on the road or in your garage. A prudent thing to do is to remove and discard the clamp and allow the cable to be free. You also need to put a spacer under the nut of the #8 stud to take up the space vacated by the clamp. The #8 stud is slightly longer than the other studs. With this arrangement it is an easy task to replace the distributor along side the road without risking creating more problems by inducing a warp in the head.

Distributor Roadside Seminar (continued)

By: Tom Endy

<http://www.santaanitaas.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/08/2OC-Distributor-Roadside-Seminar.pdf>

Distributor tools and support:

A couple of other items that are a must besides the spare distributor is a cam wrench, part number A12210-W. They sell for about $1 at most any Model A Ford supply house. The other item is a small inspection mirror, like a dentist uses. After you think you have located the timing mark, check with your mirror to see if the hole in the timing gear is really on the mark. One last consideration is the type of distributor shaft installed. There are two types, a long shaft and two short shafts. My recommendation is to install only the short shaft when rebuilding a distributor. The short shaft requires that another short shaft of similar length be installed down in the engine block. The second shaft is easy to install; just drop it down the hole in the engine block and rotate it with a screw driver until it locks in the slot. The two-shaft arrangement provides some amount of U-joint action which is easier on the distributor shaft bushings. It's also a good idea to carry an extra short engine shaft with you (part number A12249). This is in case a fellow club member breaks down, he needs to borrow your spare distributor, and the one in his car has the long distributor shaft installed. You will also have to reset the timing if you install your spare on someone else's car.

PACKING FOR TRAVELLING IN YOUR MODEL A

By Mary Carlson

https://www.mafca.com/downloads/Fashions/Packing\_For\_Traveling.pdf

I've recently found an ad for luggage that would have been perfect for traveling during the Model A era. These 'wardrolas' were cleverly designed to hold a multitude of outfits. The Wheary Trunk Company of Racine, Wisconsin stated that the trunks came in colors such as gold, green, burnt orange and maroon. The ad indicated that the trunks were perfect for air travel, train travel, steamship travel and also for automobile travel. The Airplane Wardrolette was sized to fit on the running board of a car. It would hold 10 dresses, 3 pairs of shoes and 42 other garments!

Don't you wish you had one of these nifty trunks?

This ad is from the June 2, 1928 issue of The Literary Digest.
