If you didn't make it to the Oeder's Lake Picnic, you really missed a great time! Sharon Cradler and her husband did a splendid job cooking all the hamburgers, brats, chicken and all. Plus took care of all the trimmings and sides for the club. This was her 20th year for this service and if we can talk her into it for another 5 years, we'll present her a silver star!

I was amazed how quickly Gary Daley could catch a large bass with his new pink worm bait. I took the picnic table out to the park and told Richard Oeder it needed a little welding to make it better and he thanked the club for it.

Lets have a good turn-out for the Poker Run for more good times!

2017 Mystery Tour

Tour hosts: Al and Jan Audette, and Art and B J Foreman

It was a dark and stormy day. It was May 21st, the day of our club's 2017 Mystery Tour. However, with some careful planning we avoided the rain. The Mystery Tour had eight Model A's and about as many modern cars. In attendance were 33 participants and hosts.

The theme of the 2017 mystery tour was parks. On the tour there were office parks, housing development parks, a cemetery-park, parking lots, no-parking signs, parkways, and a dog park. The 8-page tour guide provided directions, questions, space for answers, pictures, and a large amount of mainly superfluous information to entertain and confuse participants. The tour started at a Lunken airport parking lot. And about two hours later and after seventeen miles or more of driving, the tour ended at the Lunken Airport Sky Galley Restaurant, which is about 25 yards from the starting point.

Our members' initial motivation for participating in the tour may have been getting participation awards but shortly after starting the tour, the participant's motivation became winning, winning very fabulous prizes. Competition was brutal. This was strange because participants did not know anything about the prizes.

The Zitneys (Bob, Marie, Jackie, and Ashley) came in first, followed by Tom and Margie Blomer. Then came Mark Keitel; Jarrod and Melissa Williams; Terry and Brenda Owens; and Andy and Kristen Algiers. Last year's last place winners, Lee White and Phyllis Pease vacated last place for Conrad and Dottie Gerdes, who had a respectable score. Some winners received potted plants, which could feel at home in a park.

To demonstrate that the tour was more than just fun and greed, the organizers included a stop at the Cincinnati Observatory's sundial for scientific inquiry. Unfortunately, the day was dark and stormy and the sundial did not function. Participants, like the Williams', prostrated their bodies on the ground in a vain attempt to cast a shadow. Lee White spent time searching for the sundial's on/off switch. Since we had no candidates for the Toilet Seat Award, we are asking that the malfunctioning sundial receive the award.

Please thank Al and Jan Audette, and Art and B J Foreman for all their hard work this year.
